WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 15.

How HE FOOLED HER. - Olive Logan tells, in the Baltimore American, how Jim Collier, the actor, fooled Maggie Mitchell, who is his kinswoman, while spending a few days at the upright and pains-taking man of business, with Long Branch cottage. It is a story of wicked qualifications which eminently fit you for useand elaborate deceit. Snakes were thick in the julness in that body, and in whom we can entirely ard, and Collier habitually went out in his slippers. The repeated warning cry of the anx- To H. Barnes Kerrick, esq., Markham station. ous lady was, "Jim, look out for snakes-adders! the grass is full of them since the rains. James L. Strother Better come off the grass with those slippers on !" He basely repaid this solicitous atten- E. H. Kidwell, tion, according to Olive, in this way: "Procuring one day at a toy shop on Broadway, one of those papier-mache snakes which make one shudder to look at them, he fastened it to his trousers-leg by a string, whose action he could regulate at his waist. The family were seated | W. A. Hoffman, on the piazza. Suddenly a howl rent the air. It emerged from Collier The affrighted group looked toward him, and with horror beheld a soake writhing out of his trousers leg. 'Soake! Adder!' shouted he, jumping from the hammock and careering wildly over the lawn. 'I'm bit! O, take him off! Murder!' 'Bring him something! quick! Whiskey-arnica!' cried Maggie, wringing her hands. 'O! bring the whiskey-don't bring any aroica!' shouted Collier, rolling on the ground and making the snake perform gymnastics in the air. Mr. Paddock (Maggie's husband) having got a big stick, was about to rush to the rescue. 'Keep away!' roared the sufferer; 'it shall bite moody but me-O! O!' Then seizing the reptile in both hands at its ends, he attacked it with his teeth in the middle, and apparently accomplished its destruction by madly 'chawing' it in two, to the indescribable horror of the family on the piazza.

THE MINERAL BUREAU.

The Bureau just established at Alexandria by the railroad companies to aid in developing the iron and other mineral resources of and promoting home metallurgical industries, will be open for the receipt and public display of samples on and after the first of September

For the guidance of those who wish to avail themselves of the advantages which this insti-tution offers, the following items of information

First: It will not undertake to negotiate the purchase or sale of any lands or minerals. In its operation it will be confined mainly to dis-playing the samples sent to it, and publishing all important information in relation thereto communicated by the senders, acting in the matter as a gratuitous exhibitor and advertiser to the best of its ability, for public benefit.

Second: Each sample intended for display should be as near as possible a truthful average of the mass of mineral from which it was taken, and in quantity sufficient to fill a box measuring on the outside just one cubic foot. The box should be a sightly one, smooth on the outside, and fit to be placed on exhibition. Its lid should be screwed on, not nailed, to avoid breaking or defacing in opening.

Third: Each box should be distinctly marked on its lid thus:

master on board of any passenger train on the Washington City, Virginia Midland and Great Southern Railroad, or any road connecting therewith, will be transported directly to its destination free of charge, but without any liability for damage, loss or delay. All the roads in the State, it is believed, will immediately unite in this arrangement. When any box is so sent the Bureau should be notified thereof through the mail by the sender.
Fourth: Within each box, and securely enveloped to prevent soiling, there should be a statement, written in a distinct, bold hand, set-ting forth [first] the name and postoffice address of the sender, [second] the exact location of the land from which the mineral was taken, and the probable quantity of mineral upon it, or the thickness, length and breadth of the deposits, so far as ascertained, and [third] whether or not the property is offered for sale, and if so offered, such other information as a person desiring to purchase would be apt to ask for.

Fifth: Each box, as it is received, will be opened, labeled and placed for display in its appropriate position in the exhibition chamber, and the written statement found within it will be inscribed in a general record book, which will always be open to the public for reference. An appropriate notice of each sample will be at once handed for publication to each of the newspapers in Alexandria.

Sixth: The exhibition chamber will be kept open to the public daily, Sundays and public holidays excepted, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. It will be the duty of the attendant to be courteous to visitors, and afford them every opportunity to inspect the samples on display and obtain whatever information in relation thereto of which the Bureau has possession. It will also be his duty to carefully protect the samples from being broken, mutilated or removed; but this rule will not apply to prevent limited average portions from being taken, according to special directions for analysis. special directions, for analysis.

Governor's Office, Richmond, July 3, '74.

It affords me pleasure to say that I am well acquainted with a large majority of the officers of the Montpelier Female Humane Association who reside in the vicinity of my home, and 1 attest their intelligence and their worth and high reputation as gentlemen, as well as the public confidence, influence and substantial means liberally represented among them.

JAMES L. KEMPER, Gov. of Virginia. Alexandria, Va., July 8th, 1874.

My personal acquaintance with a majority of the gentlemen controlling the Montpelier Female Humane Association and the reputation of all of them enables me to commend them as fully entitled to the confidence of the public. No act or representation inconsistent with honor and integrity need be apprehended in the conduct or representations of these gentlemen.
